In non-fiction writing, I can use subheadings and introductory phrases consistently to start new sections or paragraphs. I can introduce and maintain a view point in my writing. I can use a new line when each character speaks with speech marks and other appropriate punctuation. I can use a range of connectives to develop meaning e.g. also, besides, furthermore, despite, if, because, although. I can use similes and metaphors for a specific purpose. I can organise my writing into paragraphs. My Writing Targets I can use a wider range of punctuation (), ....., ; : -I can edit and suggest changes to my own work and others. I can identify and use clauses and phrases to I can use apostrophes for omission and possession e.g. can't, vary my sentences. won't.